 Today is not an excuse to forget the lives lost to Islamic terrorist attacks. Islam is still a huge threat to the West.

Senator Fraser Anning @fraser...
 Today's shootings in Christchurch are growing fears within our communities in Australia and New Zealand over the Muslim presence.

Senator Fraser Anning @fraser... · 26m
 I wonder if there will be as much outrage from the left wing when the next Muslim terrorist attack occurs?
 Most likely silence and talk about "lone wolf attacks, mental illness and no connection to Islam".

Senator Fraser Anning @fraser... · 48m
 Countries such as Poland, Japan and Hungary that have not allowed Muslim immigration are not facing any terrorist attacks today. This is what we should aim for.

Old People Line Up To Clean Radiation in Japan

Alexandra R.

Mr. Yamada: "I am 72 and on average I probably have 13 to 15 years left to live. Even if I were exposed to radiation, cancer could take 20 or 30 years or longer to develop. Therefore us older ones have less chance of getting cancer."

Alexandra R.

Basically a group of 200+ retirees are volunteering to expose themselves to high levels of radiation so the younger men and women don't have to.

Exactly one year ago today since the Stockholm terror attack.

11 year old Ebba was walking home from school.

She was deaf. She couldn't hear the truck. She didn't stand a chance.

Her killer was not even supposed to be in Sweden.

Never Again

never again.

Today is in memory of Ebba 🥺🥺🥺

If true, it looks like the BBC have been caught red handed manufacturing fake news.

The BBC is allegedly behind the 4chan posts for the "Swedenistan" flag change petition, then when it failed to take off they claim 4chan is losing.

Absolutely incredible news fakery if true.

file: MikeWending-BBC-4chan-Fa\(...\).jpg (1.77 MB, 1920x3878)

BBC caught Gaslighting 4chan Anonymous (ID: EmBzXLu) 11/18/17(Sat)19:33:14 No.149966038 [Reply] >>149968428

BBC journalist Mike Wending has been implicated in a hoax to create fake news.

He started threads called 'Operation Swedistan' with a petition to change the Swedish flag.
<https://archive.4plebs.org/pol/thread/149245561/>
<https://archive.4plebs.org/pol/thread/149700329/>
 After these threads lost steam; the very next day, he wrote an article for BBC trending about how 4chan is weakening, with a case study of 'Operation Swedistan'
<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/blogs-trending-42003496> [
<http://archive.is/ghk4x>]]

He then came back to brag about how he had "revealed" /pol/ in the MSM, complete with a new petition announcing his arrogance
<https://archive.4plebs.org/pol/thread/149750584>

petition: <http://archive.is/WCI3S>

Wending has retweeted Media Matters (Brock-Clinton) and is in charge of BBC Trending, a prominent media shaping entity.

BBC have been caught RED HANDED making fake news. They manufactured a story, by posting a fake petition, shilling it on /pol/ and then writing an article about it. We need to get this out there before the MSM covers it up and their anti-4chan, anti-facts agenda is fulfilled.

OC rundown on #coinhive and #thepiratebay. #cryptomining

Is  coinhive a viable way to monetize a website?

Case 1: hash captchas

the only captcha that loads in a reasonable amount of time is the smallest one, 256 hashes. Takes anywhere from 10 to 60 seconds to solve. Every 256-hash captcha earns the host 4e-8 Monero. Currently there have been 750M posts on 4chan.org/b. If every one of those posts were coinhive monetized, it would have earned 4chan 30 Monero. At $93 per coin, that comes down to $2790 in the whole history of /b/.

Case 2: webpage javascript background miners

Unless you want to piss off your userbase, you need to set a high throttle rate for your webpage miner. Currently thepiratebay.org/browse has their throttle rate set to 0.9, and they probably know what they're doing. This results in a hash rate of about 2 hashes/second per user, 7200 hashes per hour per user, and 112e-8 Monero per hour per user. Lets say you have a 1 hour podcast streaming on your website. Then you need to have 9600 people listen to the full podcast in browser to earn $1.

Conclusion:

 coinhive is probably not a very good way to monetize a website, at least right now. The usual ways of monetizing a website have far greater yields than this. Even simply asking your users for donations is likely to have far greater yields. At the current rate, coinhive will not enable you to recoup cost of a website, and using it might have unpredictable effects on your site's reputation to users.

FROM A CHARLOTTESVILLE COPS OWN WORDS:
A Charlottesville police officer has come forward to express his anger at being told to "stand down" by the city mayor during violent clashes between protestors. He also claims the protests, which pitched "Unite The Right goer's" against members of Antifa, were "set up" to further the agenda of the elites.
"We [Charlottesville police] were ordered to bring the rival groups together. As soon as they were in contact with each other, we were told to stand down. It was outrageous. We weren't allowed to arrest anyone without asking the mayor first. We weren't even allowed to stop the driver as he sped away."
"The event was being set up as far back as at least May and

IT WENT LIKE CLOCKWORK."

Michael Signer, the mayor of Charlottesville, ordered police to stand down during the most chaotic and destructive period of the protests – despite police protests against the orders.

"We wanted to do our job and keep the peace. But these
